Mr. Colby

GACarver, Jr.

Per our 15 August telephone conversation, attached are two OER notes: one on Communist ammunition expenditures in South Vietnam, the other on SA-2 missile firings in the north. These were done by OER after our conversation with General Walters on 11 August and both have been sent to him. If you are interested, we can break out the overall ammunition expenditures in the south by round, weapon type and region over a more detailed time-phased plot.

Approved For Release 2004/12/02 : CIA-RDP80R01720R000700090044-4

TO: General Walters

FROM: GACarver, Jr.

SUBJECT: North Vietnamese Ammunition
and SAM Expenditures

REMARKS:

STAT Attached are two notes spontaneously commissioned by [redacted] and prepared by his OER associates. They were prompted by our conversation on Friday, 11 August. One deals with the rate at which the North Vietnamese have been firing SA-2 missiles. The other analyzes daily ammunition expenditure rates in South Vietnam for the month of July breaking them down by type, rounds and by tons.
